Dear Hal:

The same theory has occurred to me, I think, but I neither have a roster nor know how to obtain one. Among those in the unit at that time were B.A. Simco of Long Beach, Charlié Call, Botello (?), Steinkoph, Lawson, Murphy, Nelson Delgado, Rudy (?), Ring, Cox, M/Sgt. Spar, Lt. Delpadro, an older noncomm called "Pappy," a corporal who later got discharged for drunkenness named Bailey, (I think Bailey was in this unit with me, also) a sergeant Murray (who was in one of the offices), and some faces for which I have no names. A fruitful area to search would be Orange County in the immediate vicinity of El Toro, since a good many men seem to remain in this area after discharge, and I occasionally hear of a reunion between two old Corps buddies. Simco, who is listed in Long Beach, ran into, I think, Murray not long ago. Bud also has a much better memory for people than I have. There was also a man named Devlin, I think, who made a parachute jump with me at the Orange County Airport, as did Bailey.

Perhaps one way of going about all this would be to find out where MACS-9 is now and ask them for a roster. I don't think it would ordinarily any longer be classified information -- but I have a hunch it will be as hard to come by as much other evidence in this affair -- which is, in itself, after all, evidence.

Among those in the unit at that time were B.A. Simco of Long Beach, Charlie Gall, Botello (?), Steinkoph, Lawson, Murphy, Nelson Delgado, Rudy (?), King, Cox, M/Sgt. Spar, Lt. Delpadre, an older noncomm called "Wappy," a corporal who later got discharged for drunkenness named Bailey, (I think Bailey was in this unit with me, also) a sergeant Murray (who was in one of the offices), and some faces for which I have no names. A fruitful area to search would be Orange County in the immediate vicinity of El Toro, since a good many men seem to remain in this area after discharge, and I occasionally hear of a reunion between two old Corps buddies.
